Dear Friends,

It is an honor to welcome everyone to the City of Los Angeles' commemoration of American Indian Heritage Month.

The history of American diversity began with our indigenous American Indian tribes, and have been a very important part of the unique cultural mosaic that is Los Angeles.

We hope that our commemoration will help preserve, promote, and celebrate American Indian culture, and educate our wider community to the special role and contributions of American Indians.

Please accept my best wishes for what I know will be a successful event
Sincerely,

HERB J. WESSON, JR.

COUNCILMEMBER
MITCH O'FARRELL
 LOS ANGELES CITY COUNCIL, 13TH DISTRICT

November 4, 2016

Friends:

It is an honor and a privilege, as a member of the Wyandotte Nation, to welcome you to the 2016 Native American Heritage Month celebration at City Hall. As the representative of the 13th District, as well as a voice on the Los Angeles City Council for Indigenous people, it gives me great pleasure to continue this important tradition in the City of Angels.

I am especially honored to be able to shine the spotlight on the rich cultures and traditions of the Native American community in the Los Angeles area, home to the largest American Indian population in the country. This is why I authored a motion to establish Indigenous People's Day as a legal City holiday in Los Angeles, to recognize the sacrifices made by our ancestors as well as to commemorate the history and reflect on the contributions of Native Americans who were here before anyone else.

As we take part in the celebration today, I want to extend my sincere appreciation and gratitude to the Los Angeles City/County Native American Indian Commission for its 40 years of service to Angelenos, and the Torres-Martinez Desert Cahuilla Tribe for helping make this event possible. I look forward to working with you on some of my top priorities while in office -- easing the affordable housing crisis, creating healthier communities, and preserving our natural open spaces like the Los Angeles River.

Enjoy the celebration!

MITCH O'FARRELL
 Councilmember, 13th District

COUNCILMEMBER
 LOS ANGELES CITY COUNCIL, DISTRICT 13

Mitch O'Farrell has built a solid reputation of improving the quality of life for constituents in the 13th Council District. His plans include creating opportunities for more affordable housing; reforming City policy to help small, neighborhood businesses drive the local economy; and working with his colleagues, the Mayor, and the entertainment industry to halt runaway production.

The Councilmember's district is the most diverse in the city, including the neighborhoods Atwater Village, East Hollywood, Echo Park, Elysian Valley, Glassell Park, Historic Filipinotown, Hollywood, Mid-Wilshire/Koreatown, Rampart Village, and Silver Lake.

Mitch began his public service in 2002 under the leadership of then Councilmember Eric Garcetti. Mitch's experience as a field deputy, district director, and senior advisor to the former City Council President have given him the experience to make government work better for people across the 13th District.

Mitch was elected to office on May 21, 2013 to succeed now Mayor Eric Garcetti as the Councilmember of the 13th district. The newly elected councilmember held a ceremonial swearing-in event at Marsh Street Park on Saturday June 29 2013, and started his term on July 1.

Council President Herb Wesson assigned Mitch as Chair of the Arts, Parks, and River committee; Vice-Chair of Health, Mental Health, and Education committee; and a member of Energy and Environment, Entertainment and Facilities, Public Safety, and Public Works and Gang Reduction committees.

Mitch is deeply passionate about giving back to his community and preserving local habitats and open space. He has held leadership positions in several non-profit organizations such as the California Wilderness Coalition, and the Santa Cecilia Orchestra, an organization that provides after-school classical music lessons to children in the Los Angeles Unified School District. He also volunteered for Project Angel Food, delivering hot meals to those who are home bound and living with HIV.

Mitch's great appreciation for the environment and his surroundings come from his rural upbringing in Oklahoma. Mitch lived on a small farm until the age of 7 when he moved to the city. By living in the countryside and in the city, Mitch has developed a keen perspective on the values and needs of both rural and urban lifestyles and peoples.

Mitch was raised in a humble, working class family along with his brother and two sisters. His father was a union truck driver while his mother was an administrative assistant. Mitch's father's job required him to drive out to Los Angeles several times a year, fueling Mitch's dream to eventually move to the bustling city on his own. Mitch's simple childhood has enabled him to realize importance of having access to resources for a comfortable, fulfilling life.

As a member of the Wyandotte Native American tribe, Mitch was sworn into office by Wyandotte Nation Chief Billy Friend along the LA River on June 29th, 2013, and officially with the Mayor and his newly elected Council colleagues on June 30, 2013.

In addition to the rest of the 13th Council District, Mitch understands the importance of Hollywood, its history, and its brand as a unique one-of-a-kind destination place for the rest of the world.

Mitch is working to enhance Hollywood's reputation as a world class neighborhood to live, do business, and visit. It is an economic driver for the rest of Los Angeles as the entertainment capital of the world and a worldwide destination for tourists.

The Councilmember is also deeply passionate about --and plans to tackle-- the degradation of the environment. He believes that Los Angeles, as a community, must take responsibility at the local level in order to help relieve global environmental damage. He plans to help the community realize the consequences that their actions may have on the rest of the planet and ultimately attain a greater level of consciousness regarding the environmental crisis. Mitch wants to ensure that Los Angeles becomes a leader in the protection and preservation of the environment and wildlife.

One of Mitch's most important projects is the LA River, the birthplace of Los Angeles, and a representation of the city's future and the endless possibilities it presents. The LA River was Los Angeles' main water source up until one hundred years ago when it was channelized during the Great Floods and later neglected due to the beginning of the automotive age. Mitch believes that the LA River project will enable Angelenos to re-orient themselves to the river and enjoy the natural landmark recreationally, aesthetically as well as economically.

Mitch and his partner, George Brauckman, live together in Glassell Park with their dog, Speedy. As an avid animal lover, Mitch plans to make animal welfare one of his main concerns during his time in office. His great respect and passion for animals has always been a significant aspect of his life. Mitch strongly believes that in order to become better human beings we must learn to be humane and treat animals with the respect and care that they deserve.

As an openly gay councilmember, Mitch plans to work with the Gay and Lesbian Center to help provide the LGBT community with strength and guidance. It is of tremendous importance to Mitch that he ensures that no gay, lesbian, transgender or questioning young person feel like he or she is alone. Mitch is determined to work with advocates in the community to pay tribute to the great and long history of the LGBT community in the 13th District. Mitch plans to maintain the visibility of the LGBT community and cement its place in mainstream society.

CITY OF LOS ANGELES

DANIELLE BRAZELLGENERAL MANAGER
DEPARTMENT OF CULTURAL AFFAIRS

November 4, 2016

Dear Friends,

We are proud to celebrate the cultural traditions and heritage of the original indigenous inhabitants of the great land surrounding Los Angeles with you and their descendants. Among these people are the Fernandeno Tataviam Band of Mission Indians, the Gabrieleno/Tongva San Gabriel Band of Mission Indians, and the San Manuel Band of Mission Indians.

Varied in history and character, American Indians make up a wonderfully diverse community that is united in spirit. American Indian Heritage Month is an opportunity to celebrate and share this culture with people, young and old, and to highlight the many ways the cultural mosaic that is now Los Angeles is enriched.

We are honored to partner with the Office of Mayor Eric Garcetti, the Los Angeles City Council, Council President Herb J. Wesson, Jr., Council Member Mitch O'Farrell, the Los Angeles City/County Native American Indian Commission, and our community collaborators to present the 2016 American Indian Heritage Month in LA.

Please join us in this celebration!

Tribal Traditions: Past, Present, and Future

Sherman Timothy (Tim) Wapato

Member of the Colville Confederated Tribe in Eastern Washington

1935~2009

Wapato served as the first chairman of the Los Angeles City-County Native American Indian Commission, and American Indian Welcome House, and also served as a member of many Indian rights organizations. Wapato retired from the LAPD after 21 tireless years of service, and dedicated his career in Washington, D.C., to educating members of Congress and the Senate about tribal governments, sovereignty, tribal culture, and Indian gaming.

Tim was highly respected throughout the United States and touched many lives. The Los Angeles City-County Native American Indian Commission honors and acknowledges this national Indian leader, as we celebrate the 40th anniversary of our founding since 1976.

THE LOS ANGELES CITY/COUNTY NATIVE AMERICAN INDIAN COMMISSION

The Los Angeles City/County Native American Indian Commission was created through a joint effort of members of the Los Angeles American Indian community, Los Angeles City, and Los Angeles County governments. The Indian Commission was officially established by the County of Los Angeles on June 25, 1976.

‘URBAN RESERVATION’: LOS ANGELES

The Los Angeles City/County Native American Indian Commission provides support for a wide range of issues and activities for over 200,000 people of American Indian ancestry. This proactive organization consists of five members appointed by the Board of Supervisors, five by the Mayor of Los Angeles, and five elected in community-wide elections. The five community members, along with one City and one County appointee, comprise the Self Governance Board that administers the Community Service American Indian Block Grant.

- Intergovernmental legislative advocacy
- Grantsmanship
- Community education
- Lobbying for over $9 million annually in federal funding for local agency support
